A unique region's blend

Silver Memories for Living Archive

'Helping to build communities'

The Rockets performance at Wilton Hall, March 1994

Twenty-five years ago, Living Archive was established as a charity collecting citizens' memories in Milton Keynes and delivering the best in arts, heritage and community projects.

Twelve major documentary plays, over twenty books, fifty films, numerous exhibitions and countless songs have since sprung from Living Archive's impressive archive of over a thousand personal recollections.

'We're all walking, talking, living history – but we forget how quickly things change. So it's not just the voices of the old that need to be listened to – we all have a story to tell.'

Roger Kitchen, former General Manager

Young film makers on location

'Without the volunteers who help us we couldn't have achieved so much. But there's so much more to be done; ours will always be a 'work-in-progress' as we continue to support the growing community.'

Mel Jeavons, present General Manager
