

Great Linford Waterside Festival

Memories and photographs from the festival

"I just go for the fun of it and pop down with my daughter to the festival. She takes a Jack Russell to the show and it always wins. It's not like Crufts but there are judges and prizes, and last year he came second in the best behaved dog category. On the way out of the ring, unfortunately, he tried to bite the dog who came first!"

"She bathed him and fluffed him up with shampoo and stuck him in the basket and cycled down to the festival, and halfway there he hopped out and jumped into the canal, rolled around in some mud, and still won a prize!"

"Dave and Sylv travel quite a way, they've run it for the last few years and they're great. A more dedicated pair to putting this dog show on you could not wish to meet. I always enjoy working with them. They bring down all their dog loving friends so we get people from outside the area as a result of having the dog show which we may not have done previously. It brings lots of people in, it's great."

David Lovesy – Site Manager

"The dog show is a bit of fun, not Crufts stuff, any dog can enter and there are usually lots of laughs!!
