

At the Heart of the Community

Inter-Action MK has been pioneering community arts in Milton Keynes for 35 years, growing with the city and helping local communities to develop.

Based in The Old Rectory, Peartree Bridge, the work is enabling people to work together, improving skills, finding hidden talents, making new friends and having fun together.

Along with artists, volunteers, participants and audiences, staff have undertaken a huge range of projects.

An overriding principle is the belief in active participation - working with people not just for them – truly inclusive arts because the arts can and should be for everybody.
