

Fire and Light

Inter-Action MK has turned Bonfire Night celebration into an art. In 1978 Welfare State International built and then burned down 'The Houses of Parliament' to a large audience and accompanied by entertainment and fireworks. Since then November 5th has been marked with many entertaining festivals of fire.

Lantern festivals have also featured strongly from the early days through to recent times, bringing people together to make and celebrate.

In 2010 the grounds were alive with the Garden of Light project – a whole range of visual experiences for visitors as they moved around The Old Rectory grounds.
